

'Delivering High Quality Care One Patient at a Time'

2019 Survey is Open

We value your partnership as a member of IHP and continuously seek feedback on how we can build additional benefits into your membership. Two themes have emerged in discussions with physicians members as areas for which we would like to gauge collective interest: medical malpractice coverage and health insurance benefits.

A Survey Monkey has been circulated which is designed to help us determine whether pursuit of these offerings would be worth further exploration. Responses will be accepted through January 25. Please take the time to respond, we want to hear from you!

HealthRegistries Comes to Primary Care Practices

One of the goals of IHP's shared savings programs as they grow is to automate the collection and sharing of data. Data harvesting from all of the practice EMRs continues to make progress towards making this a reality. Our population health and IT departments have been working behind the scenes for many months preparing to launch Cerner's HealthRegistries tool to practices in IHP.

What does HealthRegistries do?

- Leverages clinical, financial, and operational data across disparate sources to populate wellness and chronic condition registries (translation: pulls data from your EMR, payer claims data, Inspira's Cerner EMR from all modalities to create one big picture of a patient's gaps in care)
- Provides visibility to the quality measures for a provider's and practice's population and performance (translation: provides point of care and aggregate data to you so you know your performance at any time)
- Produces scorecards and dashboards with a view of how a practice and organization is performing across outcomes measures (translation: shifts us from manual data collection via spreadsheets and emails to an automated way to provide quality data to payers)

Once your EMR data is integrated into the tool, you will be contacted to begin the Pre-Implementation Process, which includes Inspira building your users into the program and validating your data. Once complete, Implementation will take place with onsite training and support.

We look forward to offering this new technology to monitor our patients and measure results as seamlessly as possible. Thank you for your partnership in making this happen!
